

ROUNDS OUT ELEVEN YEARS IN BUSINESS

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., Prepared to Superintend Charity Operations.

NEW YORK, March 4.—John D. Rockefeller, Jr., who is to supervise the distribution of his father's wealth, recently attracted considerable attention in New York by serving as the foreman of a grand jury that made a searching investigation of the "white slave" traffic. He offered to spend $25,000 of his own money, if necessary, to prosecute the investigation.

A review of the business career of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., discloses the coincidence that his resignation from the Standard Oil Company rounds out eleven years, almost to a day, since he made his debut in financial circles by election as a director of the Delaware and Lackawanna railroad. At that time, although but twenty-five years old, he had attracted attention to himself as a rich man's son, not guilty of the excesses that often characterized anticipated inheritances of wealth.

He had chosen Brown University for his college career and one of his proudest trophies was the varsity "E" in football. Then, as now, he was earnest, sturdy, trustworthy and most democratic. Though short in stature, he has the muscle of an athlete and a steady blue eye. He makes no pretensions and his friends declare simplicity is one of his charms.

When he became a resident of New York city the country at large was first attracted to him by the assumption of the role of teacher of a large class of young men in the Fifth Avenue Baptist Church. With this class he discussed frankly the problems of his father's enormous fortune and the country at large at one time looked at these discussions as the mouthpiece of many of the Standard Oil campaigns. He resigned from the class for the second time two years ago, owing to the pressure of business gradually unloaded on his shoulders by his father.

His domestic life has been marked by his devotion to his wife, who was Miss Abby Greene Aldrich, daughter of Mr. Nelson W. Aldrich, United States Senator from Rhode Island, to whom he was married in Providence in 1901. Their children include John D. Rockefeller, 2d, born in 1898.

Mr. Rockefeller is a member of the University, Alpha Delta Phi, City and Mid-Day clubs. He is now in his thirty-sixth year.

ELOPERS WILL GET NEW GREYNA GREEN

Pittsburg Promoters Declare West Virginia Is Good State to Marry In.

PITTSBURG, March 4.—A movement has been set on foot by river interests to catch the disconsolate Pittsburg eloping couple on the rebound.

Since the Ohio judges declared that a girl must be a bona fide resident of the county in which a license is applied for, there has been much casting about for a new Greytna Green.

Owners of steamers plying the Kanawha and the Ohio rivers sent out runners today to look up trade for West Virginia county seats, the word being spread around that West Virginia was the best State to get married in anyway.

PRICES FOR COWS SOAR IN DISTRICT

Tuberculin Test Has Sent Cattle Soaring, Says Official.

That the depletion of dairy herds in consequence of the application of the tuberculin test has made prohibitive the purchase of cattle in the District, is the statement of William J. Fay, superintendent of the Home for the Aged and Infirm.

Under a recent appropriation of $2,500 a dairy has been installed on the farm for the Aged and Infirm, and $500 remains for the purchase of cows. Owing to the high prices prevailing in the District, Mr. Fay has recommended to the Commissioners that he be authorized to purchase the cows in Pennsylvania and have them shipped to the District, subject to the examination and approval of one of the veterinary surgeons of the Health Department.

The recommendation was approved today by the Commissioners.

TO TAKE PRISONER BACK.

Detective T. C. Nolan, of Chicago, is in Washington to take charge of H. H. Bernhart, who is wanted in the Windy City on a charge of stealing a diamond ring valued at $100. He will be taken to Chicago as soon as requisition papers get here.

OPPOSE PROPOSAL TO RENAME STREET

Chicagoans Admire Roosevelt But Are Not Unanimous for Alderman's Plan.

CHICAGO, March 4.—State street known the world over as the center of Chicago's business district will hereafter be known as Roosevelt street, if Alderman Otto J. Novak has his way. He will introduce a resolution in the city council to this effect.

Despite their admiration and respect for Colonel Roosevelt, however, Chicago merchants are opposed to the scheme. They want to name some side street after Colonel Roosevelt and favor a "less radical" method of signaling the return from Africa of the great hunter.

BRINGING SHAMROCKS.

NEW YORK, March 4.—Carrying a quantity of Irish sod and hundreds of packages of shamrocks for the Irish Fellowship League of Chicago, where she is awaited by a large delegation of Chicago Irishmen. The sod will be spread upon the spot that President Taft will stand upon when he speaks in Chicago on St. Patrick's Day.

FEAR NOW FELT FOR EUGENE SLINEY

Family Ask Police to Find Young Man Who Is Missing.

Relatives of Eugene M. Sliney, who has been missing under peculiar circumstances since February 17 from his home, 123 Clifton street northwest, fear today that he has committed suicide.

This belief is based on the fact that when he left home he took a revolver with him, leaving all his belongings and a sum of money in his room. Sliney, who is twenty-five years old, was a well-known patent draughtsman. He maintained an office in the Baltic building, and did work for several leading patent firms. Until about two years ago he was employed by C. C. Cousins, a patent attorney, of Montreal, Canada.

Miss Rosa Sliney, a sister of the missing man, called at police headquarters a few days ago and requested that a secret alarm be sent out. Believing that he had met with an accident or was ill, a canvass was made by detectives of all hospitals and other retreats. Failing to get any clue to her brother's whereabouts, Miss Sliney yesterday asked the police to send his description to the authorities of other cities.

Relatives and friends of the young man are at a loss to understand his strange actions, saying they know of no motive that would have prompted him to leave home or take his life. On the day he disappeared he seemed to be in good spirits.

Sliney is described as twenty-five years old, five feet ten inches tall, and weighed 170 pounds. When last seen he wore a fur-lined overcoat and a black derby.

HOME FOR BLIND IS LINEN STOCKED

The linen closets at the Home for the Blind are today well stocked as the result of the linen shower at the Home yesterday afternoon.

About 300 guests attended, each of whom brought a gift of linen for the home. The guests were received by Mrs. T. K. Noble, acting president; Mrs. Horace Springer, chairman of the committee on arrangements for the shower, and by the ladies of the board of directors, assisted by the junior auxiliary to the home.

ITCHING STOPS; RED NOSES GO

New Skin Remedy Works Quickly and Effectively.

Many references have been made in newspaper columns lately to itching palms, red noses and pimples, which, in the opinion of those who claim to know, are but minor affections, easily and readily cured by poslam, which can be obtained at Ogram's, O'Donnell's, the People's Drug Store, and Atlee's, or at any good druggist. Still it must be remembered that poslam, as originally evolved, is first, last, and all the time a remedy for eczema, stopping the itching immediately and quickly restoring the health of the skin. So with every form of itching disease, hives, rash, ringworm, fever blisters, piles, acne, sores, scabs, and eruptions of every kind.

The sample package of poslam which the Emergency Laboratories, 32 West 5th Street, New York, is sending out by mail, free of charge, to every one who writes for it tells the whole story and is sufficient to clear the complexion over night, or to rid the face of pimples in 24 hours.

WIFE MAKES AMENDS.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 4.—Mrs. Annie Solz has given permission to her husband, a merchant of Greenville, Miss., to withdraw $1,000 on deposit to her credit in a local bank. Solz alleges that his wife and Abraham Glassman, an acquaintance, disappeared from Greenville several months ago simultaneously with the disappearance of $2,000 of his capital.

TO STUDY PELLAGRA.

LONDON, March 4.—The committee which recently was formed here for the purpose of investigating the disease pellagra has appointed as field workers Dr. Sambon, who has made a close study of the disease, and who has advanced the theory of its protozoan origin, and Captain Siler, an American.
